1. Chapter 1

dhello people im new to making stores and I hope I can make you readers go "wow" hopefully. will here is my story.

Hi my name is Hiccup and I tame dragons. my life on Berk... will I can't say good. Things have not been going well for me.

It has been 6 months from the day I killed the Red Death and became best friends with toothless and lost my leg... I've gotten use to using my metal made leg but at times it hurt and it gets stuck on something when I walk.

But that's not my problem, it's how some people look at me, its how people talk about be, how they walk by me. Not sure but I can see there worried about something.

I'm not sure about Astrid, we've been dating and does help in dragon training. I do love her but I don't know if she loves me. maybe one day I will find out but for now I will see how today goes.

We see Hiccup flying on toothless in the morning air moving with speed over the island of Berk. Right now hiccup was riding his friend so he would stop jumping on the house.

"come on bud lets move though those rock." hiccup said while keeping his eyes on where he wanted to go. Though a few of the rocks like land cape coming out of the water. Moving lift and right dodging the tall rocks as they pass one after the other. After passing them all they go high above the sky to see the great view the world have to offer. seeing Berk all covered in the cold snow of winter.

After a good long fly around the island, Hiccup thinks its time to go to the smithy to get some work done "Hey bud lets head on home." toothless doing as his friend ask they make their way to the house on the hill and land right in front of it. Hiccup jump off toothless and almost fail but toothless was there to keep him on his feet or foot. "thinks bud, come on lets head inside I will get you some fish."

after getting toothless some food. hiccup had already lift his home and on his way to the smithy, once he got there he was greeted by an old friend of his "Oh hiccup I was wondering when you get here." Gobber said to hiccup while pulling an axe from the fire and start to beat on it.

"sorry I was taking toothless flying and you now he gets jumpy."hiccup said "That's ok I know how dragons are around here, say hows that leg of yours?" Gobber said while looking at his leg. hiccup did the same "its doing fine." he lied but was able to hide it " oh that's good. by the way we have some weapons to fix."

but before hiccup could say or do something "everyone to the great hall we have a storm coming!" someone said screaming. 'A storm? can't we just go to our homes and wait?' hiccup thought. Gobber looks at him worried "Hiccup get to the great hall will work on those later." Gobber said to Hiccup quickly.

"before I go to the great hall I'm going to my house to get toothless." hiccup said as he quickly made his way to the door of the smithy "ok but me careful." when Gobber said that hiccup had lift.

hiccup was moving as fast as he can but his metal leg is slowing him down. he see his house and starts to make his way up the hall but before he does he bumps in to someone and fail. when he looked up to see who it was "Hiccup you need to keep in eye where your going." Astrid said while helping him up.

"oh hey Astrid, what are you doing near my house?" hiccup asked "oh I was passing by to see you but then started to make my way to the great hall because of the snow storm and we should get going" Astrid said "you go ahead I'm getting toothless" hiccup said while moving to his house but was stop by Astrid grabbing his wrist. "he will be alright he's a dragon come on hiccup" Astrid angrily trying to being him to the great hall.

"Astrid I'm not leaving my friend in this storm!" hiccup said while getting his hand free. "fine I will see you at the great hall and be careful" Astrid said as she ran off to the great hall to be safe from the storm.

"what was that about?" he said to himself. hiccup remembers that he need to get toothless. he gets up to his front door opens it and finds toothless near the fire and awake. when toothless look to see who it was he was glad it was his friend he jump up and ran to him to lick his friend covering half his face. "aw toothless why you do that?!" hiccup said annoyed but glad.

before hiccup could say something else a lighting strike came down near the village. "LIGHTING... in a snow storm!?" hiccup said being scared. "ok toothless we have to get to the great hall now" hiccup said while jumping on his friend's back knowing that toothless is fast on land too. "alright toothless lets move!" as hiccup said that a another lighting strike came down. hearing it close by and snow moving hard and fast in the wind covering the land deep in it.

when they are near the great hall a lighting strike came down then they both hear a roar so loud "RRRRAAAA!" but didn't see what it was or know where it came from. toothless ears drop low and had a scared look. "what was that?" hiccup said. "come on toothless let's get to the great hall we will find out later."

when they open the doors and enter the great hall everyone looks at him. he was the last of the village to get to the great hall. "hiccup its good to see your ok." his friend fishlegs said walking up to hiccup. "hey fishlegs and glad to see that your ok too." hiccup said.

"oh by the way did you see what made that roar?" fishlegs said wondering what it was. "it might be a dragon, I don't know what else could make a roar like that?"

before hiccup could say anything else Astrid had walk up with Snotlout, Tuffnut and Ruffnut. "hiccup you need to be more careful on what you do" Astrid said. toothless growls at her. hiccup looks at toothless and wonders what's wrong.
>"Hiccup can you get toothless to stop growling at me" Astrid said annoyed and later angry.

"Toothless why are you mad at Astrid?" hiccup said as he put his hand on his friend's and pats it. toothless stops and walk over to a fire with an angry look. "sorry Astrid i don"t know why he did that, do you?" hiccup said. "no i don't. come set with us." Astrid said. hiccup doing as he was told made his way to the table and sat down.

"hiccup did you hear that noise that was coming from outside" tuffnut said "it sounded like a big monster maybe a dragon!" snotlout said.

"maybe but it sounded hurt. after this storm we should look for it and see if it is a dragon" hiccup said. "and if it is then I will tame it and make it mine." snotlout said with a smile.

"snotlout you do know that if this is a dragon we have never seen before. it would be best to go over the book of dragons." fishlegs said.

"I don't need to read that book. once it see me it will bow to me in all my glory" snotlout said while standing on the table and putting his fist on his hips with a smile.

"what"s all this about" Stoick said as he walk up along with spitelout and Gobber.

"Oh we are talking about what made that noise outside. think its a dragon so we're going to tame it." hiccup said as he looked at his dad.

"really?" Gobber said. "yeah and I'm going to tame it" tuffnut said then stand on the table as will but was pushed off by ruffnut "no you're not I I'm!" then she was pushed off by snotlout. "yeah right im going to tame!" snotlout said while standing on the table.

"hey everyone the storm has calm down!" someone said.

2. Chapter 2

hello all. I'm not giving up on this story. I will stop when it has like 10 chapters. and 20,000 words I hope. oh and I know that the first chapter was not going to make you all go "wow" but I will get you to go "wow" will here's the new chapter.

When everyone looks to see how much damage is done to the village, it looks to be fine, theres maybe a chair missing or a door but the houses are fine just covered deep in snow and the good thing that it won't take long to remove it from the road they will use the dragons to melt it.

"Ok I think we should" but Hiccup was cut off when Snotlout jumped pass him on Hookfang "That dragon is mine!" Snotlout loud. Hookfang bump in to Hiccup causing him to fall on his back.

After that the rest of the group jumped on their dragons and made their way in the air to begin their quest to find the new dragon and tame it for themselves.

Stoick walks up to his son and help him up. "You ok son?" Stoick said worrying about his son.

As Hiccup got back on his feet. "Yeah I'm fine dad." "Good, I think you should get going if you are to get that dragon first and be careful." Stoick said with a smile.

"I will and thanks dad" Hiccup said, glad to have a dad like him.

Hiccup called toothless "Hey bud you ready to find a new friend." Toothless only nodded at the thought. "come on bud let's get to the house so we can get your fin." Hiccup said while getting on his friend to get to the house faster.

Once they got their Hiccup had put on Toothless fin and got on his saddle and hooked his metal made leg. "Are you ready." Toothless only nodded with a smile.

Toothless takes to the air with one flap of this wings and already moving with speed.

They begin looking around the mountains and for minutes they didn't see a thing. "I don't see anything toothless, let's go to the forest."

Just when hiccup got there "RRRRRRRRAAAAAAAA!" They both hear a roar same as the last one, but this time it sounded like it was roaring with all its might.

"There's that noise again toothless, lets see if we can find it this time." toothless doing as he is friend asked.

As hiccup was flying, he spotted a trial of trees that where tor down like something ran in to them and kept going for more then a 100 feet. " bud let's fellow that trial, maybe we can find out what did this."

After only flying for about a minute they reach the end but find nothing, only the trees on the ground. "Toothless lets see if we can find something down there."

After landing near the trees that where covered in snow and where tor down, they begin looking for something thats related with dragons. after looking hiccup had fine dry blood in the snow and big white feathers "these feathers are about 2 feet long, what could be that big?" hiccup looks back at the dry blood and see that what every had these feathers had left a trial of blood going down a path.

Toothless sniffed it for a sec than looked back at Hiccup with a look like 'what should we do?' "I think we should fellow it, if the dragon or whatever it is, if it is hurt then we can help it."

Hiccup and Toothless started to fellow the blood made trial. now and then they would find a feather, some big, some small, but all white. Even if the feathers are the same color as the snow they are not hard to see.

after walking for a while Hiccup started to remember this path leads to the cove, the same place where he find Toothless. "maybe it's in the cove?, what do you think bud?." hiccup asked his friend.

Toothless nodded. "ok then, to the cove we go" Hiccup said while getting on his friends back and with one push of his wings, there both in the air and in seconds they reach the cove.

they both look in the cove and what they see made both their eyes go wide.

What they see is a dragon with white feathers all over its body, it has four legs, but the two on the front look like they can be used as hands. the dragon looks to be three times longer than a Monstrous Nightmare it had to be at lest 70 feet long and the length of the wings are about 80 feet long and are also covered in feathers like a bird. this dragon is giant compare to what we have. The neck of the dragon seems to get bigger as it gets closer to the body. It tail does not have a fin on it just feathers, its head had no horns or teeth, but small feathers compare to the ones on the rest of his body.

the dragon looked up to see Hiccup and Toothless in the flying air. hiccup now can see its eyes, there blue and look the some as human eyes.

the white feather dragon looked away and lad its head down on the snow ignoring Hiccup and Toothless as if they are no treat to it.

"come on bud let's get on the ground" Toothless doing as told, landing on the other side of the cove. hiccup got off of Toothless. Toothless looked at hiccup with a worried face. "its ok Toothless, it's just another dragon, a much bigger dragon then I thought."

Hiccup started to walk slowly to it and extended his right arm. "let's see if your nice" hiccup said as he got closer.

"if you wanted to pet it all you had to do was ask" a deep and strong voice said.

Hiccup stop in his strakes, turns and was surprise to see a man sitting on a rock and smiling at hiccup. 'I didn't even notice him there.' hiccup thought.

++++++++++++++++++ 30 minutes age ++++++++++++++++++

"come on Hookfang let's see if we can find a new dragon." Snotlout said.

after a few minutes of flying Snotlout had luck on his side. he see the white feather dragon in the cove, it scared him a bit to see how big it was, but if he bought it back to the village people would want him to be the next chief. "that dragon is so mine." Snotlout said with a grin.

Snotlout landed near it and got off his dragon and started walking to the white dragon.

it looked at him but then just ignored him. Snotlout got mad that it just ignored him. "ok dragon your going to be mine" Snotlout said as he got closer to the white dragon and extended his arm, once the dragon seen what he's trying to do it moved it head up in the air, to high for Snotlout reach.

"hey! get your head down stupid dragon!" Snotlout said angrily.

Snotlout looked down to see a rock pick it up and though it at its head, the rock hits the side of its head making it mad with rage. it looks at Snotlout. "good now that you know who's your boss, you will." but Snotlout was cut off after the dragon had pin him to the ground with one of its front legs.

"ahhh! Hookfang help!" but Hookfang was to sacred to move. Snotlout looks up to see the dragon looking right in his eye, then with all its might it let out a rear so loud "RRRRRRRRAAAAAAAA." when it stop it pick him up and though him at Hookfang, Snotlout hit his dragon and rolled on the ground, but when he look to see the dragon growl at him he got up and got on Hookfang as fast as he can and want flying as fast as he can.

the white dragon look at him as he left the cove, it looked back at a men standing a few feet away. "will... that kid was a dumbass." said the men.

it took a few minutes for Snotlout to reached the village and landed hard on the snow, after a sec the village begin to back their way to Snotlout, once Stoick got there he ask what happen. "Snotlout what's wrong." "I find the dragon and its big, very big! and it attack me!." Snotlout screamed out. "it would have killed me, but I was to fast for it." Snotlout said with a grin.

"if this dragon dangers lives then it needs to be dealt with." Mildew said as he came out of the crowd

"I agree with Mildew if this dragon dangers my son then I say we kill it." Spitelout said agreeing.

"now hold on. we can't just go and fight this dragon head on, there must be a way to tame it." Stoick said thinking. "where's Hiccup he should know what to do." "forget about Hiccup, my son can tame it himself, come on Snotlout take me to where you last seen the dragon." as Spitelout said that he and his son started to walk to the cove, people started to fellow them even Mildew.

++++++++++++++++++ present ++++++++++++++++++

Hiccup looking at a men standing at lest 7 feet tall and his body is very will built, slimmer then the village people, he has blue eyes just like the dragon's, his hair is brown and is short. I can't tell what he is wearing because of the white cloak he had on, it covered most his body but his head.

"so do you want to pet it or not?" the men asked Hiccup.

"um... sure." Hiccup said still surprised.

"ok, then I get to pet yours." the men said with a smile.

"o-ok go ahead." Hiccup said a little worried and wondering who is this men.

the men nods at Hiccup and begin to walk to toothless. Hiccup doing the same with the white dragon.

when hiccup got closer, in its eyes it didn't show any sign of danger, it just lower its head for hiccup to reach, when Hiccup put his hand the head, it felt soft, like a pillow, Hiccup started to rub it and was rewarded with a happy purr from the white dragon as it smiled.

just then Hiccup heard something hit the ground, he turns to see toothless on the ground and purring.

"huh... your dragon here is fun to play with." the men said while looking back at hiccup.

"will he's fun and at times he's annoying." hiccup said knowing what he did to toothless.

"oh I never got your name nor your dragon's." the men asked.

"my name is Hiccup and he's toothless." wondering what the men will say about the names.

the men still had that smile "my name is Alexander and his is Feathered " pointing at the white dragon with a smile.

"by the way, what are you doing on Berk?" hiccup asking Alexander.

"oh so that's were we are, will I was passing though, but that storm got the bitter of me and my friend here and I had no idea where I was." Alexander said.

"you were the one who made that noise yesterday?" hiccup asked. "yes it was my dragon, he get it by lighting in the storm." Alexander said with a worried look on his face when he looked at Feathered.

"are you or your dragon hurt?" hiccup asked. "no were fine." Alexander answered.

just then the cold air started to effect hiccup "if we are to have more of this conversation I think we need to make a fire." Alexander said. Hiccup agreed they both find a good amount of wood to burn and keep warm from the cold of winter, it was easy to get it started, what with the they had dragon. they both set down near the fire. even when Alexander set down the cloak still covered his body.

"so Hiccup why did you come all the way out here, I didn't see a village from where a was." Alexander asked.

Hiccup just remember why he did. "will you see, when we heard your dragon roaring, the village had a bet to go and tame your dragon-" "Feathered." Alexander correcting him. "Feathered and being it back to the village." hiccup said and worried.

"Is that so?" Alexander said then his face sadden to hear that. "I'm guessing that you all thought it was a wild dragon?" Alexander asking Hiccup. "yeah we did, will now I have to tell them that the bet if off." "that would be a good idea." Alexander said with a smile.

just then Alexander heard a noise coming from Hiccup, Hiccup moved his hands to his stomach. "sorry, just hunger." Hiccup said a little embarrassed.

"I have some food in my bag that I can share." Alexander said. 'wait... bag?" Hiccup thought.

Hiccup then see that Alexander had a bag behind the rock he was sitting on earlier, he then garbed it, open it up and pulled out a small basket that was covered on top by a cloth. that's when I got to see his arms, he look to have steel made scale mail on and over them where white Gauntlets on each arm covering from elbows to finger tips but the scale keep going up his arm. this men was wearing armor.

"sorry, but all I have is biscuits" Alexander said while walking over to, being Hiccup out of his thoughts.

"o-oh that's ok, as long there is something to eat then I will be fine." Hiccup said while rubbing the back of his neck.

Alexander nods. removes the cloth from the basket and in it was ten well cooked biscuits. he hands me two, I took them with a smile and he smiles back. after he hand me them, he want back to where he was sitting.

it was good to know this men. he told me a few of his story, like how he want around the world, that had to be great, to see the world. I told him how I lost my leg and how I killed the dragon known as the red death and how people ride dragons but not every one.

just then they both heard a noise coming tors them, like a group of people, or the most of the village.

Hiccup can see the villager coming to the cove for some reason, maybe for the dragon but the village?, Hiccup also could see Snotlout, the twins, Fishlegs, Astrid and his father riding on their dragons.

once everyone had a look at the white dragon they had wide eyes at the size of it, it was not as big as the Red Death, but it was big.

Alexander then moved to Feathered for protection, once Snotlout seen this he started to get mad. "hey! what are you doing near my dragon!" Snotlout said with an angered face.

"your dragon?" Alexander said looking around but only seen Feathered and Toothless. "the only dragons here are mine and this young lads." Alexander said, but once he see Snotlout. "hey! your that kid who though that rock at my dragon!" Alexander said with anger slowly building inside him.

"your dragon! that dragon belong to my son! and who are you?" Spitelout said.

"it's not polit to ask people their name's without telling them your's." Alexander said string at Spitelout.

people started to get mad at hearing that. "now look here, I'm not looking for trouble, but I'm willing to make some." as Alexander said that Feathered got up on all four legs and now you can see its teeth, it was ready for a fight.

"Hiccup you need to get away from that men, he's dangerous" Astrid said.

"hold on guys, he's didn't come here to fight nor to do harm." Hiccup said trying to calm everyone down.

Alexander looked at Hiccup. 'glad to have met him before all this.' Alexander thought with a smile.

"what with that smile?" Spitelout said. "like it matters to you." Alexander said. "ok that's it!" Spitelout said while making his way to Alexander. "now held on I'm not here to fight." Alexander said, but Spitelout didn't stop moving tors Alexander with axe in hands. "fine then." Alexander said while moving his cloak behind his shoulder to show his white full plate armor over his full body scale mail, the armor looked to be made very will and the scale mail looked like it was made for him. on his left side was a sword in its sheath, it look to be at lest 5 feet long like a long sword.

"stop right there Spitelout!" Stoick said while landing right in between Alexander and Spitelout. "I want everyone back to the village now!" Stoick said loudly to everyone. "but what about my dragon?" Snotlout said.

"it's not your dragon." Alexander said looking at the kid with a stir. "but-" "now! to the village!" everyone had started to leave but Stoick, Hiccup and Astrid.

Stoick gets off his dragon and looks at Alexander and Hiccup. "we need to talk." Stoick said.

will i hope you guys liked it. i will be making a new chapter very soon. and the OC's are made from me and i do not own HTTYD.

3. But maybe one day, it will be here you all go the next chapter. I hope you all like. took some TIME i know!. by the way, i have wanted to make a story with this Oc for sometime now, it just that I never had the time, but now I do and I will not stop. will enjoy with your reading.

"But maybe one day, it will be"

We start with Stoick looking at a man who he has no idea is and does not know why Hiccup, his son is helping him. Stoick looks at his son with a look of confusion, then back to the man in armor.

"Who are you?" Stoick flat-out said. "it's not nice to ask someone their name without telling your's." Alexander said who looks with no worries, but just a smile.

Stoick thought for a moment. the man was right. "Alright then. my name is Stoick The Vast and im chief of the village." Stoick said. "The names Alexander and i'm the rider of this dragon." Alexander points to Feathered. "His name is Feathered" Alexander said.

Stoick looked at the dragon called Feathered. the size of it out matched the ones they have, but then remembered that someone is on his island and all Stoick knows about him is his name. "why are you on Berk?" Stoick asked.

"I had to land... or crash here." Alexander looks at the trees that had fallen over when He and feathered crashed. "Because of that storm, so me and my dragon got beat up from the crash." when Alexander said that, Hiccup just realizes that he lied about being hurt but didn't want to interrupt him or his father.

Stoick looked at Feathered "I didn't know other people rode dragons."

Stoick looks back at Alexander as he said that.

"Same for me, I thought I was the only one." Alexander said.

"Guess not." Stoick said. Stoick then saw blood on the show near Feathered. "How badly are you and your dragon hurt."

"I'm a little swore, but my dragon has a bad cut on its right-wing." Alexander said while looking at the dragon's wing, seeing the dry blood on it. "I will need to get something for the wound to heal." Alexander said while looking back at Stoick.

"We can give you what you need." Stoick said. Hoping that giving him what he needs, will make him leave as quick as possible.

"it could take a week for the wound to be healed." Alexander said. "then you can stay at my place." Stoick said. "and try not to get in a fight with the villagers." "As long as you keep them off me for the time, there will be no problems." Alexander said with a smile and glad that someone is helping him. "thank you for the help." Alexander said as he hold out his hand for Stoick to take, Stoick takes it and shakes.

Stoick turns to look at Hiccup and Astrid "You two will take him to the village, show him where he can take his dragon and make sure that it has room." Stoick said.

"chief are you sure you can trust him, I mean he almost got in a fight with the village and he can learn about our dragons." Astrid said.

"Astrid this is only one week and he has a dragon that's three times bigger then any dragon we have, I doubt he wants to learn and I'm sure after what almost happened with the village, that he wants to get off as fast as he can, but I will have in eye on him to be sure." Stoick said.

"can I be the one to keep in eye on him." Hiccup said. "ok then Hiccup, I think he trust you more anyway." Stoick said agreeing with hiccup.

"hiccup you sure, I mean he's armed, he could take your life" Astrid said. she knew when she said that, that Alexander had heard.

"why would I take someones life when they show me kindness and was willing to help protect me from the village, even if it was his own village and thick you Hiccup for seeing me as a friend and not an enemy." Alexander said with a smile.

Hiccup nodded "the forest is to thick for my Dragon to walk though, so we're going to have to fly to the village." Alexander said. changing the topic. "okay then it's not that far from here, so flying there will be quick." Hiccup said. Alexander was glad to here that, then he just remembered something, he left something of his behind the rock where he had his bag at.

"give me a sec to get my bag and bow." Alexander said and made his way to the rock with his bag and bow. "a bow?" Astrid said. "you have a dragon why would you need a bow?" "Because there are times where I won't have my dragon and I need to hit something far away and my bow has never failed me." Alexander replied.

when he got to the rock he pulled out his bag from behind it and placed it on his back, then he pulled out a recurve bow and leather quiver that had been dyed white, in it was white fletched arrows . the bow is made out of wood but painted white same as the armor with a thin gold line that's on the front of the bow that starts from top to bottom. putting the bow and quiver on his back with the bag he reaches for a saddle that was big enough for Feathered.

Alexander walks along side Feathered. Feathered got low enough for Alexander to put the saddle on, feathered even helped getting the belt on, the saddle looked like it help the rider climb on, once the saddle was on good and tight, Alexander then climb on and saddling himself, he looked at the group.

"Ok I'm ready" Alexander said, patting his dragon on the side. Hiccup, Astrid and Stoick got on their dragons ready to head to the village. "Ok just follow us and we will show you where to land." hiccup said. Alexander nodded "Hiccup i will be at the great hall letting everyone know of our guest." Stoick said. "ok." Hiccup replied.

Stoick took off then Hiccup and Astrid. they all started to fly to the village. then Feathered stands on its four legs and extended his wings and with one powerful flap of its wings the beast was high up in the air, flying right behind them and begin following the group of riders.

in only a few minutes they reach the village. Stoick had parted ways heading to the great hall to let the village now of the news. Hiccup looks at Alexander "You can land there" Hiccup said pointing next to the Dragon Academy.

there was a big wide open spot for Alexander and Feathered. perfect flat stone, a great place for feathered to rest and heal.

Alexander turn's his head to hiccup "That will be perfect for him." Alexander said then looks back to feathered "Ok boy lets land right there. Alexander told feathered.

feathered slows down and makes a good landing and he lays down and lowers his head to let himself rest. Hiccup and Astrid then land right next to them, by the time they did Alexander had already got off Feathered and removed his bag.

when hiccup got off toothless he was able to see the wound on feathered and how bad it was, there going to need Gobber for this. Hiccup looks at Astrid. "Go get Gobber and make sure to being supplies for feathered's wound." Astrid nodded than runs off to the blacksmith.

Hiccup then walks up to Alexander, seeing that he's right next to the dragon's wing to see the wound bitter. "Will he be ok?" Hiccup asked. Alexander turns his head to Hiccup, he had a grin on his face. "He will be fine, he's gone though worse." "That's good." Hiccup said with a grin, Hiccup doesn't know why, but he seems to trust Alexander.

"Your friend from earlier doesn't seem friendly" Alexander said. "oh Astrid, she's takes caution with new people that's all." Hiccup said. "someone who is always on their guard, that's not a bad friend to have." Alexander said.

"Yeah I guess your right... So after my dad says its alright for you to walk around the village, I will show you around and where you will be sleeping for the week." hiccup said changing the topic.

"Thanks for the help and care you are giving me and my friend here." Alexander said with a smile and hold out his hand for Hiccup to take.

Hiccup takes it and gives it a handshake "Your wel-" but Hiccup was cut short. "Hey what is he doing here!" a familiar voice said.

Hiccup turns to see an angry Snotlout and the rest of the gang. "Why are you here?!" Snotlout said pointing to Alexander. Snotlout was the last person Hiccup wanted to explain why Alexander is here.

"His dragon is injured and its going to take a week for it to heal, so leaving the inland now would just get them both killed." Hiccup explain.

"So now we have to take care of him, who says?" Snotlout said. "my father and you don't have to, only me and my dad are helping if no one else wants to." hiccup said getting a little annoyed.

"So your dad is just going to let him live here for a week, who's going to which him." Tuffnut said "my dad is having me keep in eye on him and yes, in tell the week is over, he will be staying here." hiccup said.

"He let you in charge of him?, are you sure about that hiccup?, I mean no offense Hiccup but that men can easily kill you." Fishlegs said gesturing at Alexander's built figure, even with his armor on you can tell he's built.

Alexander was just standing in the background with his back to them, checking the wound on Feather. most of the teens are sure he can't hear them, but Alexander has train his hearing to be keen, so he was able listing to the group. Alexander didn't like to be Eavesdropping, but he is on an inland with only one or two people he can trust at the moment and so far he is putting more trust in Hiccup and the part about how he could easily take the life of the boy put Alexander uneasy, he sees how they would be worried, if they are that is, but to say something like that to him had to make him uneasy as will and it did.

"Look guys it all won't matter once the week is over he'll leave and everything will go back the way they were ok and I have toothless he can help." Hiccup was only saying this to get them off his and Alexander's back and move along.

"Fine then!" Snotlout says then walks off heading to the great hall.

"Wait for me" Tuffnet says running after his friend, Ruffent right behind him, waving as she lift "see you around."

"Hiccup, just be carefully" Fishlegs says with a worried look, then follows the group of teens.

Hiccup sighs watching his so-called friends leave, Alexander stands right beside him watching as well, he would had asked what was all that about, but it's not his fight, _but maybe one day, it will be_, but right now Alexander was wondering how Stoick was doing with the people of the village.

Stoick was having a great time, the village has agreed on letting Alexander stay on the inland as long as he stays on good turns and as long someone keeps an eye on him then there is no problem. all though it was uneasy for the village to find out who Stoick had pick to keep an eye on Alexander, but after what they saw today with Hiccup protecting and helping the man in white armor, they figured that everything will be just fine, or that's what they thought.

Stoick was on his way to leave and tell Alexander that he can stay, with no problem's... hopefully. just as he was about to reach the exit the though the doors of the Great Hall, Spitelout had stop him for a moment and wanted to talk to him about something.

"Spitelout what is it and hurry I need to get hiccup and tell them the news." Stoick said quickly. he's in a hurry.

"Ok, but we need to talk, it's important" Spitelout said with a serious expression.

"About what?" Stoick said, confused.

Spitelout move his mouth closer to Stoick's ear and whispers, "On who becomes the next chief."

Stoick's eyes are then filled with horror after hearing those words, the words he was hoping to hear in year's from now, but no it was on this day that those words are heard.

Then Stoick's eyes narrow at Spitelout "we will talk about this tomorrow at my place." Stoick whispers back.

"Fine then, I will bring the elder to." Spitelout said then walk off with an ugly grin.

Stoick's inside were now filled with anger and worry, Stoick hope's he's not run out of time for Hiccup. Stoick remembers he has something to do and makes his way to where Hiccup and Alexander are waiting to give them the good news and hopes he don't have to give Hiccup bad news.

meanwhile

"So you're the blacksmith and the dragon's dentist?" Alexander asked Gobber. "aye 'at is correct" Gobber replies.

"Hmm, do you think you could give Feathered a check up" Alexander asked "weel sure, ah mean..." Gobber looks at the size of Feathered and remembers the teeth he has.

"As long he dorn't eat me while aam givin' heem a check up, 'en sure." Gobber said, looking back at Alexander.

Alexander chuckled "Oh he won't hurt you, as long you don't make him think he's or me are in endanger, you will be just fine.

Gobber nodded in understanding.

Gobber had showed up just minutes after Astrid had lift and begin to help fix up the wound that was on feathered's wing, luckily it had stop bleeding hour's age and all it needed was a nice cleaned up. After so, Gobber had started talking with Alexander. asking him about the armor, for the fact is, he has never seen armor like it and about where he got his dragon from and how they both landed on the island. Alexander had only answered how he ended on the island, but not the other two, not just yet.

As they both were in a conversation with one another. Stoick could be seen just a few feet away and he was heading this way, no doubt he has his answer if he can stay or not.

"Guys my dad is here" Hiccup said, catching both their attention.

"Ah Stoick, how did it go wi' th' village an' aw." Gobber said.

"Gobber what are you doing here?" Stoick said, he was surprise to see his old friend was here.

"Oh will Hiccup here had wanted me tae help fix up Feathered, so he had sent Astrid tae gie me." Gobber said.

"It was very kind of you to help out." Alexander said, giving Gobber a smile.

Gobber smile grow. "I may not know _you_ yet, but am willin' tae help any Dragon 'at needs it and I'm starting to like you."

Alexander nods at Gobber, 'there are indeed a lot of nice people here.' Alexander thought.

"I see, will I have good news. you can stay here until your dragon's wing is healed, so until then you will be staying with us. Me and Hiccup that is." Stoick said.

"I'm very grateful for this. although it seems there was not much options for me at the time." Alexander said rubbing the back of his neck.

"No, no there wasn't," Stoick replied. "Will i have work to get back to, Hiccup why don't you take Alexander to the house and show him where he will be sleeping for the many night that is to come." Stoick said.

Stoick heads off up to the great hall. checking for any problems on the way there.

"Feathered will be safe here, on one will hurt him." Hiccup said. "that's good and all, but what about that kid from earlier, if he tries to do anything with Feathered I will-" "He won't, Snotlout is dumb, but he's not that dumb." Hiccup replied. "i hope you are right." Alexander sighed. Alexander is tired and has not eaten anything good lately, nor has his friend and Gobber was able to catch on to it.

"Hiccup, take your new friend home and get him something to eat, I'm going to get Feathered here some fish to fill him up for the night." Gobber Said.

just as he was about to leave, Gobber got a big wet tongue across his face. "what the!" Gobber said, as he was getting slobber off his face. he looks to stare at toothless, but was surprised to see Feathered had done it. who was giving him the biggest smile he has ever seen...cute.

In the background Alexander and Hiccup were trying not to laugh at Gobber.

"he's thanking you for being so nice." Alexander said. putting his hand on his chest to help keep his laughter down.

"Ah, will you're welcome" Gobber said, as he reach his hand out and patted Feathered on his nose.

after the two were able to fight off their laughter, Alexander looks to Hiccup "well Hiccup, led the way." Alexander said. gustering for him to make a move on. "oh and feathered, be good to Gobber." Feathered's only replied was a big smile.

Hiccup nodded. heading for his home, with Toothless following right behind them. who has a big grin on his face. Hiccup wasn't sure if it was ok for the man to be saying his name so soon, but really, he didn't seem to have a problem with it.

It only took about five minutes for them to get to the house. once inside, Toothless jump right on his flat rock, but not before heating it up, so that it be warm for him. Hiccup had started a fire in the pit. and grabbed some leftovers pork, cheese and bread.

as Hiccup was doing this, Alexander begin to remove his armor by first removing his clock, then piece by piece of armor. it took time, but after a hard pull of getting the scalemail off and a few bones poping he was finish and he can now relaxes. what was hiding under the metal armor was a long Sleeved grey tonic and brown pants, leaving his plated boots on, there comfortable enough. Alexander sit the white armor in one of the corners of the room, along with his bag, bow and quiver. then sitting at the table, waiting kindly for the food.

though the crack of the door you could see that it was getting late. near time for a good long sleep, but not without a hot meal to end someone's hunger and just at the right time Hiccup had finish making two slices of pork and sliced up some of the bread and cheese and even left some for his father as will.

"Alright, here you go" Hiccup said, putting the plate of food in front of Alexander. then putting his in front of him and sitting down from access him.

"thanks and again, thank you for the help, I really needed it." Alexander said, giving Hiccup a grin.

"you're welcome. its unusually rare for the people to just help someone, they usually would throw outsiders out." Hiccup said, taking a bit of his bread.

Alexander chuckled "will its a good thing that they had a change of heart or i wouldn't be here, now would I." Alexander replied, almost finishing his meal. Hiccup wasn't surprised how fast he was eating, I mean he lives on an inland filled with vikings.

"true, but if my dad didn't stop Spitelout, things would have gotten ugly." Hiccup said, getting worried about Spitelout making trouble himself.

"you are right, but its a good thing your dad is a good leader or thing would have." Alexander replied, finishing his meal. "ooh, that was good, thanks for the food, I needed it." Alexander said, patting his stomach.

"the food at the great hall is better, we can get you some breakfast and as we are on our way there, I can show you around in the morning." Hiccup said. Hiccup then picked up both plates, putting them in a big wooden budget filled with water.

Hiccup yawned. "must be getting late." Hiccup said, using his hands to rub his eyes.

"I think its time for us to go to bed, im also tried, from the crash and all. Alexander said. standing up.

Hiccup nodded. so they both walked up the stairs. to see a hall way, that had two doors on the right and one at the end facing them.

"the first door on the right is yours, if you need me my room is the last door." Hiccup said. pointing to each door.

Alexander nodded. moving to his door and opening at, its wasn't a surprise to him to see a wooden bed. he's seen a lot of things in his life.

"good night Hiccup, see you tomorrow." Alexander said.

"good night Alexan-." but Hiccup was cut short by Alexander. "Hiccup, call me Alex from now no." Hiccup was surprised by this. he didn't think Alex would give him so much trust. "ah, good night Alex, see you in the morning." Hiccup replied. Alexander nodded, then shutting the door behind him. leaving Hiccup around in the hall way.

Hiccup walks to his door, opens it, shuts it behind him. walks to his bed, sits down removes his metal leg and boot and finally laying down wondering whats going to happen in this week. Hiccup thinks the week is going to go by quick and easy and Alex will be long gone. at lest, that's what Hiccup thinks, but there is so much more to these seven days that are to come.
